DOCTORATE IN CONSUMER LAW

RESEARCH

The PhD students have been engaged in a constant research activity and in the study of the issues related to the subject of each thesis, in order to proceed to the scientific framework of the subject, deepening the most relevant doctrinal and jurisprudential orientations, in order to consolidate the knowledge already acquired on the subject.

The research activity carried out was characterized by the drafting of the following printed publications.

PUBLICATIONS

Jorge Miranda Valdebenito

2. Miranda Valdebenito, Jorge (2026). Cláusulas abusivas y delimitación de regímenes de responsabilidad en materia de consumo. Comentario a la sentencia de la Corte Suprema de 18 de julio de 2025, in Revista de Derecho de la Universidad Católica de la Santísima Concepción, N° 47.

Cristian Testa

3. Nota a sentenza, Corte d'appello di Genova, sez. I, 26 maggio 2025, n. 641, in Il Foro Padano, (in corso di pubblicazione).
4. From the Crisis of the Supervised Bank to the "28th European Regime": EU Law on Crisis Management and the Systemic Perspectives of EU Inc., in Proceedings of the 4th Young Scholars International Conference on Enterprise Law, Politécnico de Leiria, Instituto Jurídico Portucalense, in (corso di pubblicazione);

Gabriela Maribel Martínez Cabrera:

2. Martínez Cabrera, Gabriela Maribel: "La identidad digital de laa persona menor de edad: reflexiones jurídicas entorno al fenómeno de los influecers kids" (in corso di pubblicazione)